THE ACTING WARDEN'S MESSAGE
OUR 150TH

In 1966 St. John's College celebrated its centenary with a good deal of éclat. We signalized the event by acquiring our new and official (with the College of Heralds) coat-of-arms. The annual canoe race began that year--doubtless to symbolize our association with the early days of the voyageurs and the fur trade of the Hudson's Bay Company. There were many other events.

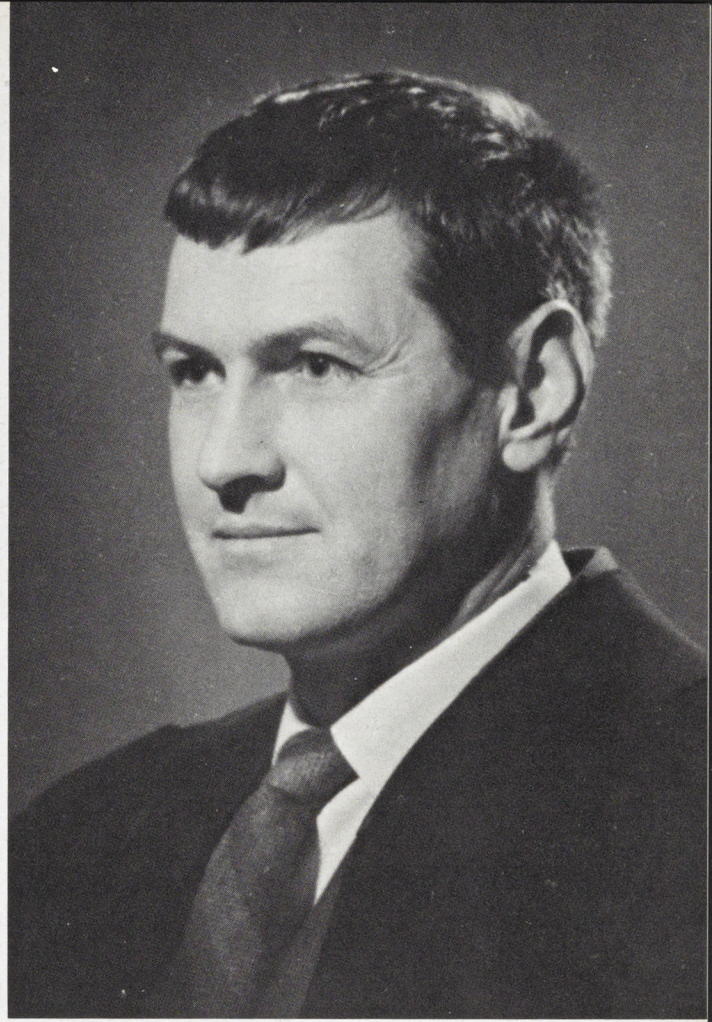

How is it that we are marking the 150th only four years later? Because 1866 saw the refounding of a continuing academic institution whose roots are in the log school house erected by the Hudson's Bay Company chaplain, John West, where St. John's Cathedral now stands, in 1820. After being dubbed Red River Academy it was re-established as St. John's College by the first Bishop of Rupertsland, David Anderson, in 1849. Our present constitution derives from the initiative of Archbishop Machray, first Chancellor of the University of Manitoba in 1866.

It is, in part, this history which prompts St. John's to work at the present juncture for the establishment of concentrated Canadian studies in the College hand in hand with an extracurricular institute to provide a forum for local community concerns. There is a great need for an academic "ministry of reconciliation", not least with respect to the Canadian Indian, whom St. John's once served, all too many years ago. New beginnings are forever in order.

To you, this year's graduates, I express the hope that graduation will be only the beginning of the realization of your heritage and resources for Manitoba and for Canada.

D.J. Lawless Dean of Arts and Science

The contemporary university is impaled on the horns of a dilemma and the 1970 graduate will surely carry with him into post-undergraduate life the scars of this dilemma. How they heal, whether they heal, and what lasting effects they leave on him are things which cannot be predicted and surely depend on the personal characteristics of the individual graduand.

Although you have been experiencing the impact of the dilemma for the past several years, let me put you in focus with what I am saying. It boils down to the painfully obvious fact that two of the major functions of a University education are in conflict. Firstly the University is a complex institution set up, nourished and maintained by society to insure that a sufficient number of society's members, having trained at the University, will be able to support and expand the socio-technico-economic system which society is. On the other hand a University is encouraged to be a place (or an experience) where the ultimates are questioned, where basic assumptions are examined for validity, and nothing, including society and the University itself, is too sacred to be exempt from scrutiny. Needless to say society and University are found wanting in this examination.

As more students in recent years have sampled the social sciences and proportionately less have majored in the physical sciences and humanities, the dilemma of the University has become more apparent. How this problem is to be solved is the topic of another discussion. Right now the concern is how it affects you the 1970 graduate.

If you are a person with social awareness, then the University's conflict will become your personal conflict as you go on to take a job or enter a professional or graduate school. Whatever your individual solution, be aware of the extremes. Firstly don't sell yourself (nor the rest of us) for a mess of potage; and don't let yourself become a robot. On the other hand, avoid the black pits of despair (they contain no solutions); nor destroy in frenzied frustration the very thing you would like to repair.

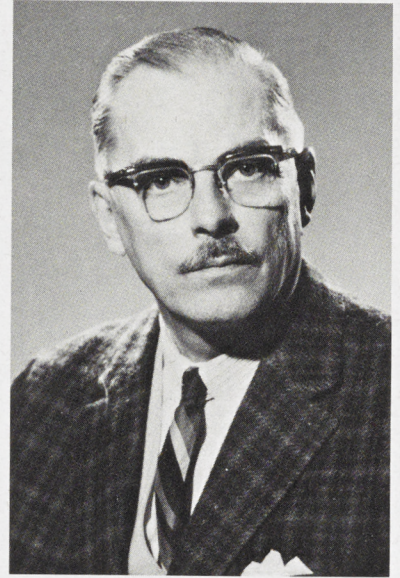

There is no easy compromise to the problem so I am at a loss to advise you in this brief context. However, it does remind me of my favorite sermon, given by the Irish priest who admonished his congregation to steer the straight and narrow path that lies between good and evil.

The past year for me has been one of the most turbulent, frustrating, enjoyable, and rewarding years of my life. The events and activities are now just memories, but their impact, at least on myself, is a very real thing which I will value always. As your Senior Stick, you have given me the opportunity to broaden my horizons greatly, and for this I thank you. It is my sincere hope that your horizons have been widened as well, and that you will look back favourably on St. John's '69-'70 just as I do. Whether you realize it or not, the interactions at the university community level which you have just experienced will influence you for the rest of your life.

Memories are valuable, and yet one cannot live in the past. So as I leave St. John's College, I would like to thank everyone; administration, faculty, staff, and students, who all helped make the years spent here so rewarding. I hope all the graduates of St. John's look back on the college as I do, with much affection; and enter the turbulent future with a realistic optimism sufficient to carry each one to his own personal goal.

Thank-you and good luck

It is always very hard under any circumstances to try to express your feelings, but I find it particularly hard when it concerns St. John's. In my three years at university this college has come to mean very much to me, and although it is inevitable that I am looking forward into the future, I still cannot help wishing at times that I had the past year to live over again. Being Lady Stick has been a great honour for me and I wish to thank everyone for that opportunity. It hasn't all been easy or fun by any means, but the good times outweigh the bad and once the year is behind you, the two blend together to become an experience that is invaluable and unforgettable.

I know that next year's Student Council will try as hard as we did to do their best for the college, and to them and to Jeanette especially, I wish every success. Finally, to all Johnians and especially the 1969-'70 graduates I wish the best of luck in the future. I only hope that your experiences at St. John's College will prove as valuable to you as I know they will to me.

ST. JOHN'S WOMEN'S RESIDENCE FACES '69-'70

In September, the face was fresh, wholesome and impressionable. However, after sunrise night and the guys' constant early morning razzing, the eyelids became fallen and dark circles soon developed. Blackheads and acne appeared shortly after we put on skits for the gentlemen next door, but the canoe race proved to be a most effective skin freshener. Initiation escapades in Polo Park and the trials of Kangaroo Court indented some deep wrinkles in the forehead so luckily the splash party and women's night covered these as well as any matte make-up would. Although our social rep. usually had most successful brain storms the Hallowe'en party turned out to be anything but a face lift (which, incidentally, was badly needed due to the great number of Commem. rejects). Because of our regular Thursday night parties, and our weekly hockey bruises, emergency calls were continually going out for Cover Girl and erase. Our most successful raid enhanced the faces' beauty with many eyelashes which weekly fell off at a surprising counter attack months later. Christmas Banquet filled the haggard face with happiness and replenished the pale spots. By Jan. the house council politics had managed to pull, as well as crack some teeth, but the ones that showed in a smile still shone. No less than two wildly exciting ski trips contributed greatly to the constantly growing laugh lines around the eyes, and at Grad's Farewell, both shed tears of future good luck for all our grads who will leave us this spring. Spring Banquet put stars in the eyes, broadened the smile, and lit up the noses well. The following week Wine and Cheese, (many thanks to Men's Res.) proved to be grand finale and a skin cleanser as well, leaving the face even shinier than it was in Sept. Wrinkles have vanished, bruises have healed, and dark circles have faded but we must never try to hide those laugh lines which mean so much to us. Our sincere thanks to Sarah, our plastic surgeon, and her work with the house council; to Pat and the future Grads of next year, the best of luck.

On February 16, the St. John's College "Main Common Room Amateur Ice Hockey Team", better known as "Laird's Layabouts", in defiance of the pleas of friends and acquaintances risked life and limb in an exhibition hockey game with the St. John's College girls' team, better known as the "Amazons". Picture these innocent fragile scholars matching their physiques with those of the girls' team. Coach Jim McDonald's chest was observed to swell with pride when his goalie "Smith the Fearless" delivered a crushing body check to his goal-post. Despite insurmountable odds (for example: a biased referee, being grossly outweighed by the opposing front line) our courageous lads held the opposition to a 3-3 tie.

Targetball

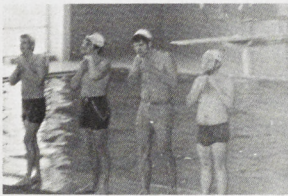

A new sport has burst onto the S.J.C. calendar of events: co-ed targetball! The game is similar to water polo, but is played in the shallow end of the U.M.S.U. pool, and has almost no rules.

The only requirement is a well developed sense of self-preservation, ie. being able to get rid of the ball BEFORE it comes to you, or if you are actually foolish enough to hold the ball, being able to hold your breath underwater for at least five minutes.

A wise idea in St. John's games is to be on Louise Carpenter's team, or, failing that, on George, "The Crusher" Norman's team. This way, even if you lose the game, you can be reasonably certain of leaving the pool under your own steam, with all limbs attached, and none of George's size 16EE footprints on your chest.

Although definitely not a sport for the faint at heart, co-ed targetball provided a welcome outlet for the energy stored during long hours in the library and classes (read cafeteria and common rooms).

P.S. Team pictures weren't available, as none of the players had been released from the intensive care ward of the Winnipeg General Hospital before the yearbook deadline.

Mom's Maulers vs Appendicitus Pete

Being an unbiased participant I would like to relate to you the game involving the devastatingly beautiful hockey team of Mom's Maulers and that cruel, unprincipled senior stick, Peter Bryant.

Peter Bryant, having bribed our previously faithful referee loomed as a great challenge before us. The girls were undaunted however as they calmly applied their pre-game make-up.

I shall not attempt to relate the ensuing battle as the girls stole the show and puck, face-off after face-off. Being the gracious females that we are, we granted the senior stick two goals. The feminists again proved their superiority as the final score read 3-2.

Needless to say the challenge was met with Mom's Maulers reigning supreme and with the senior stick in his usual position-suppressed.

The first term St. John's-St. Paul's computer party was a monumental first for the two colleges. The purpose of the soiree was to endeavour to bring the two institutions closer together socially inasmuch as cordial relations are necessitated as a result of their close geographical proximity. The evening was an unqualified success in spite of the fact that a few girls were left undated, not because of a break-down in the "computer", but because of a lack of social etiquette on the part of a small minority of "men" who refused to fulfill their obligations. All who attended were flying high, not a soul in the place was the least bit dry and everyone had a ball, so to speak.

Valedictory Address

Mr. Chairman, distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen; I feel very honored to have been chosen to present this message to the graduating class of 70!! It is very difficult to find adequate words to express my personal feelings with regard to St. John's.

The majority of us entered St. John's in 1967 with optimistic ideas, wondering what University was all about. Why did we come to St. John's in preference to St. Paul's, University College, or the campus? I think that most of us preferred the small college idea and the challenge of inter-personal relationships.

In response, I feel I speak for all concerned by saying that we found this goal. Personal satisfaction, founding of new friendships, discussing new ideas depends on the individual himself, but allow me to say that St. John's has certainly made this possible.

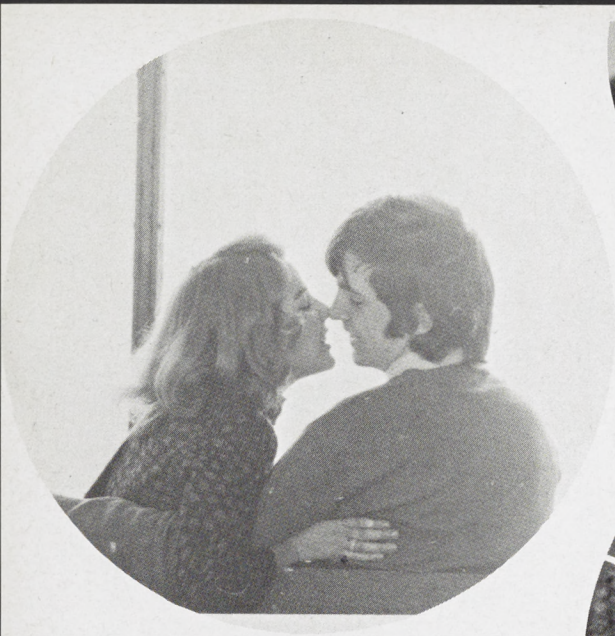

The past three years at St. John's have been filled with its ups and downs. No doubt this brings to mind vivid and varied memories to each of us. With the passing of our late warden Landon, St. John's suffered a very personal loss, but we are very fortunate to have secured a capable replacement in Reverend Brown.

St. John's has been outstanding in its sports activities as well as scholastic achievement. As we reminisce the past three years we can recall exciting events pertaining to college spirit. These range from studying philosophy in the carells, to that traditional cup of coffee in the canteen, to the swim in the Red River in the canoe race, to the robust action on the hockey rink. St. John's means all of this and more to each of us.

The College, I feel, has served as much more than an educational center to us. The students at St. John's are different from those on campus. Each of us has formed closer relationships with those around us. The College facilities and close knit organizations have made this possible. I'M PROUD TO BE A JOHNIAN!!! When I am questioned as to where I am studying, I reply: "in arts in St. John's College," not just "Arts at the University of Manitoba." It's a feeling that is difficult to pinpoint, but one which I'm glad exists. Education is much more than regurgitation of facts. It is the opportunity to expand one's mind. To all of us St. John's has fulfilled this purpose wonderfully.

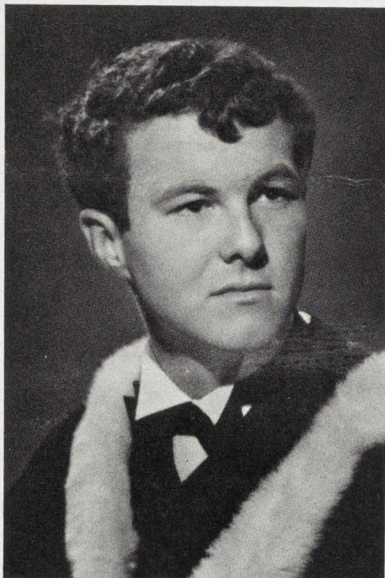

At this time, I would like to take the opportunity to thank all the teachers who spent many long hours helping those of us who require and appreciate that extra help.

On behalf of the graduating students, I wish St. John's all the best in the coming year, with its Senior Stick Ian MacLeod, the Lady Stick Jeanette Walker. So to all of you from each of us---
Farewell St. John's---we are glad to have been part of you!!!

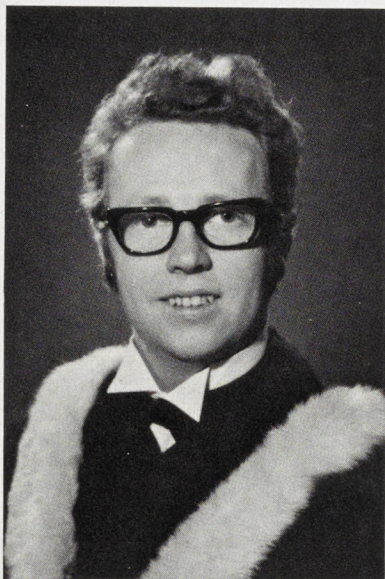

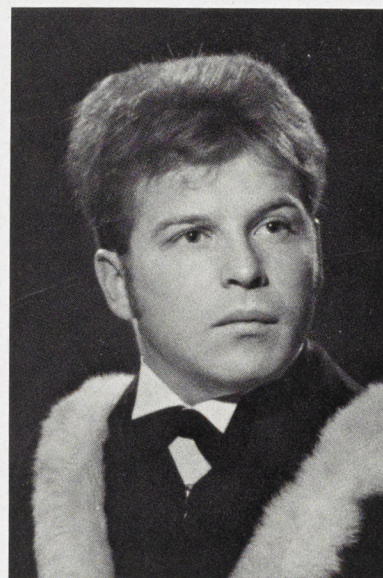

graduates

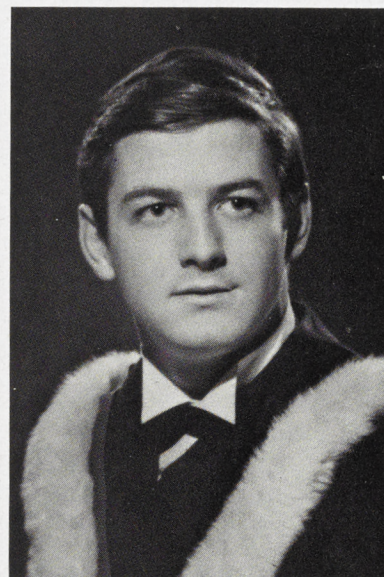

Robert Abra: N.B.

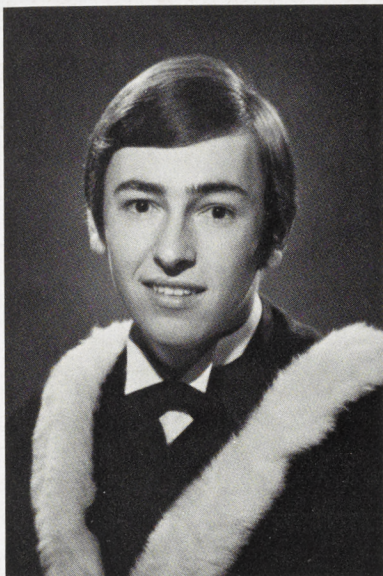

Alan Schick: One of St. John's most eligible bachelors found his "love" this summer but it did not detract from his hockey playing as he was voted the most valuable player of the St. John's hockey team. "Big Al" spends much of his time working in the library or having intellectual debates with R. Turnbull in the cafeteria. Good luck Al.

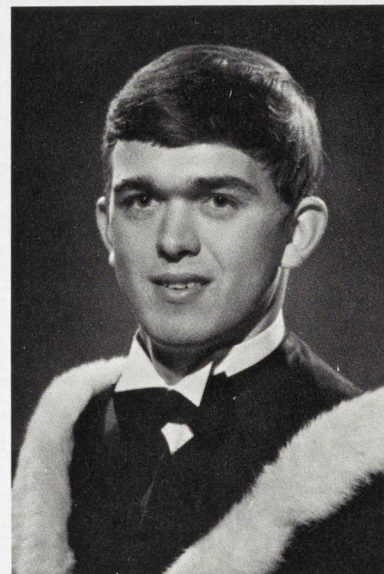

Alan Burrows: Alias "Ralph Rotten". Peter Flynn's most avid supporter. He plans on joining the ranks of Plato and the boys! Alan's faith in capitalism is bound to make him rich---someday! Look out, world!

Frank Wynes: Between the U. of M. track team and res. life in St. John's, Frank managed to obtain a major in zoology. His plans for future studies lie in the field of physical education.

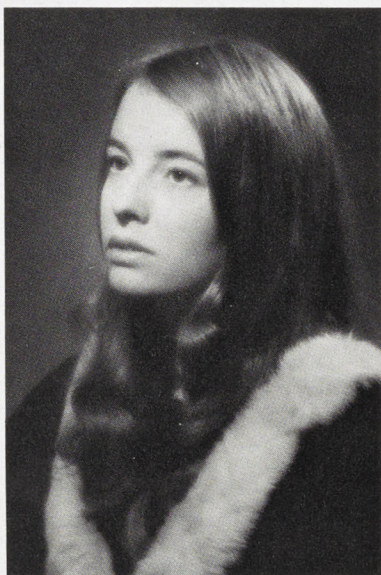

John P. Burelle: A nominal Johnian who takes most of his courses at St. Paul's, firstly because of its beautiful girls and secondly because he is a History Major. However, he has adopted SJC Res. as his undergraduate "habitat". Always looks forward to those revelrous Friday nights and/or Saturdays either at the Montcalm, the Westminster, the Social Club, or just in "Room 106" (???). Ambition: Law or Education. Probable fate: professional student. Pet Peeve: "Bopper" bands, PARTICULARLY at formal functions.

George Sigurdson: George has spent three hockey-filled years at St. John's, and partaken of many of the joys and/or vices associated with our alma mater. He came into his own this year, being Vice Stick, as well as starring with the National "C" Team. George asks nothing more from the future than a position with Detroit Red Wings, and can't settle for less. Bonne chance, Georges!

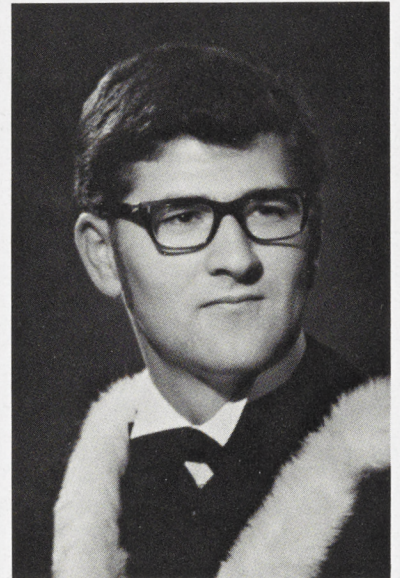

Mary Ann Murphy: N.B.

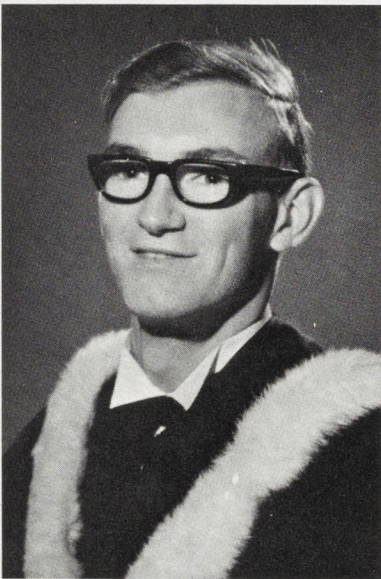

Colleen Bramwell: N.B.

Paul Adams: Having been stamped, certified and presumably of sound mind, Paul is hereby licensed to spout, bluster, splutter and show all the righteous indignation due a man of his degree. Effective April, 1970.

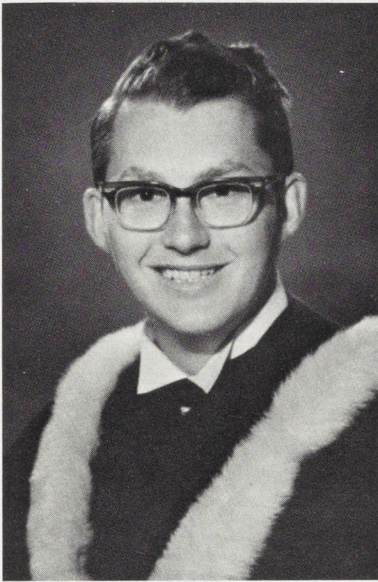

Geoffrey Horner: Majoring in blondes, Commer Cobs and economics (in that order). Geoff blew in from Fort Churchill four years ago. He has led an active programme of debauchery. His future: the pursuit of the dollar.

William Oakley: Majoring in History, with a Greek Minor, his future is uncertain; possibilities include teaching. His activities include V.C.F. (part time), I.S.O. and Liberal Club (part time).

Diane MacLellan: A Psychology and English Major. Her plans for the future include teaching and Graduate Studies in Counselling at the University of Waterloo.

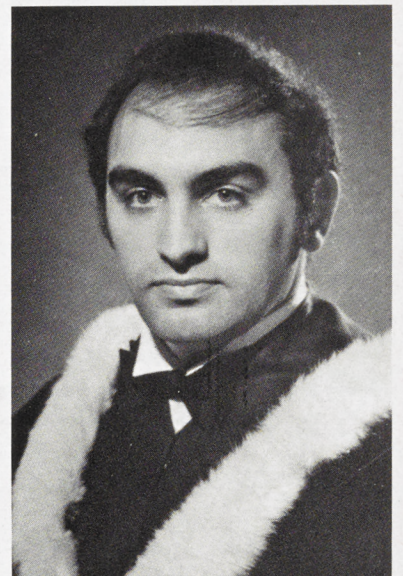

John Perry: Besides having a major in Geography and a minor in Geology John has managed to perpetrate atrocities against the English language in Poli-Sci and History. For the Student Council he has been Constitution Committee Chairman and Literary Director. He was editor of the newspaper, leaving the yearbook in Rick's very capable hands (you can remove the knife now). To keep in shape he played goal for the University Water Polo team and worked part time at the L. C. C.

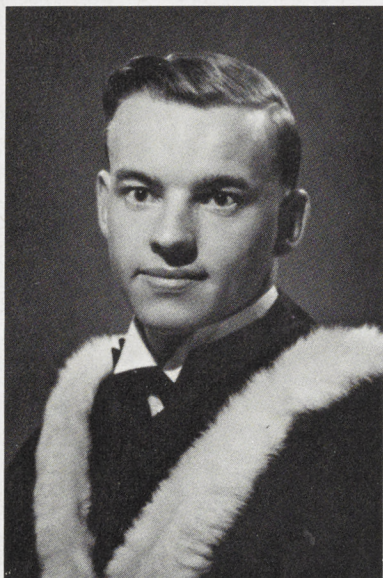

Judith Gauer: Judy has been supporting SJC cafeteria for the past few years. Her interest in ballet is second only to her keen interest in psychology due to her fond attachment to Snoopy! The strain of the library is too much for her - so she spends her studying time in the Common Room.

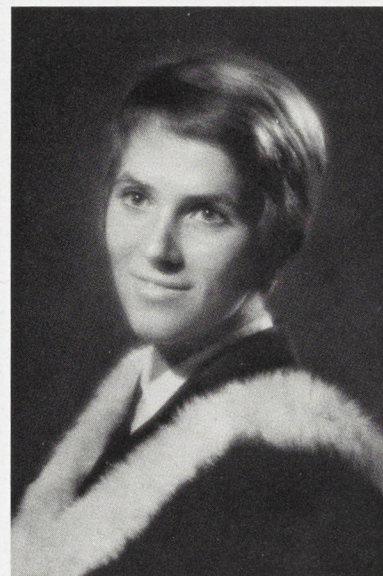

Jane Wiebe: Jane has been a member of St. John's College for the past three years. She is a psychology major who plans to go into social work or a related field, working side by side with the man of her dreams; J. S.

James Roberts: N. B.

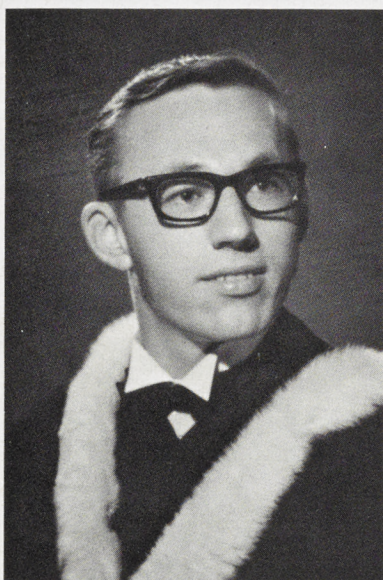

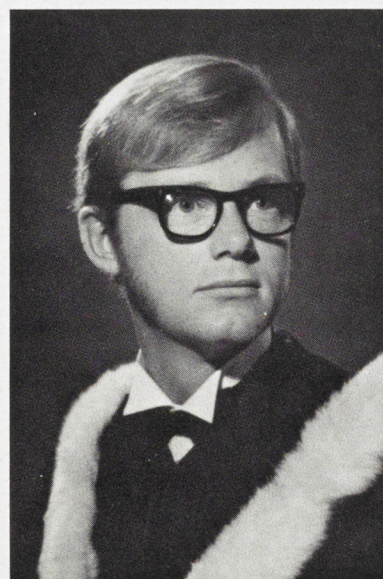

Eric Calrow: Eric Calrow, though born in Regina, has lived for the last 18 years in the Inter-lake region of Manitoba. He is completing a B.A. this year, majoring in Sociology. In the future he hopes to be a teacher. Eric, how could a nice boy like you have so many unusual tendencies.

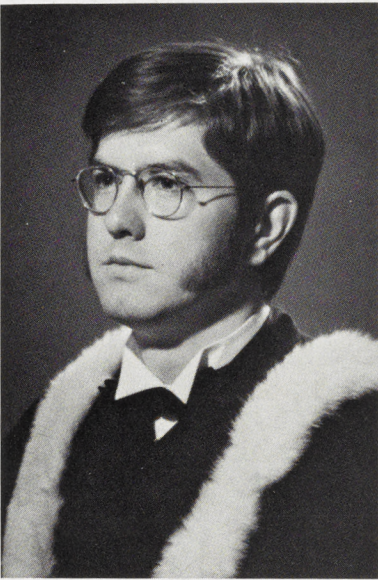

Joanne Barkwell: A major in History and minor in Psychology have interfered somewhat with Jo's social life, but she manages to excel in both. She lived in St. John's Res. for two years and participated in such residence activities as volleyball and ice hockey. Joanne's plans for the future include studies in Education and the marriage profession. Best of luck.

Richard Sadler: Now in residence, Rick hails from Emerson. Our "esteemed" Men's Sports rep. is a history major with hopes for Education I. Best of luck, Rick!

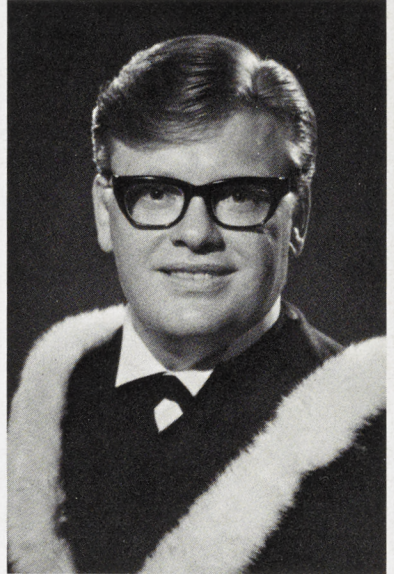

Bruce Houston: An innocent smile and smooth verbosity have not only helped earn Bruce his B.A. during the past three years; they have also helped him console many a young coed in her hour of need!

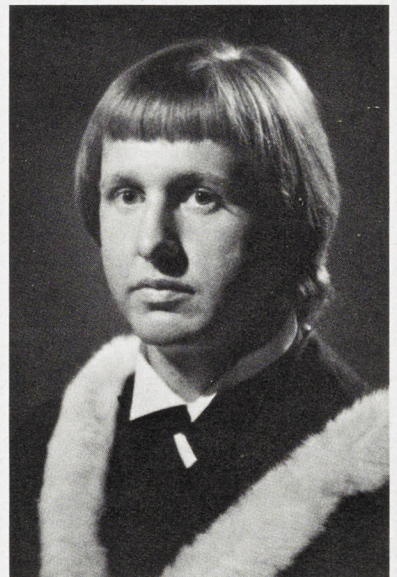

Edward Smith: Everyone should know Ed. Musician, English scholar, raconteur, painter and occasional imbiber of strong spirits, Ed can inject a note of sanity into any professor's lecture. One must only remember never to say anything nice about him in his presence.

Herman Buechler: After this year, student by day, hotelman by night: no more. Likes: good music and art; studying the lessons of history. Dislikes: diets; people with no sense of humour. Is out of tune with the times: a metaphysician; a tory; a lover of life, reality and freedom.

William Cole: Favorite pastime is at the corner of Redwood and Main. His studies take second place only to whatever excuse he can think of to avoid such strenuous strain on his brain. Bill has few vices (only important ones). "King Cole", no doubt will be missed around the halls of SJC when he graduates.

Donald Brown: Don majored in Psychology and minored in Sociology. A trip to Europe is the hopeful conclusion to three long years at St. John's. Don is the present head of the Coffee Break Committee.

Susan Kepron: N.B.

David Laird: This pert young mister's personality smacks with effervescence and a cute lil button-nose. His studious air sparkles as he discusses the essence of economic curves. While showering the student body with the sweetness, wetness, and wildness of his flowering, joyous tranquility his worldly aspect is almost palpable. Sporting the finest imported clothing, smoking only hand-tailored cigarettes, and choosing for friends only the select few, he slouches, trips, and barges aimlessly towards the nearest and cheapest cup of coffee where he proceeds to grouch, make cutting jokes, add a bluish hue to the air, and sing a few broken bars of the earliest country and western hit he can think of in seven keys. "Cool-Hand": the eternal slob.

Diane Read: N.B.

Randy Bruce: While not indulging in the sports of carousing and cavorting, the year's one and only pre-theologue student devotes his time to psychology and history. Randy is the shadow of Peter Flynn, and "master" of his self-proclaimed harem. His most frequently used expression and advice is "Crazy not to!" The Clergy of the future?

Marlene Stowell: Many a coffee hour was brightened as this pert, green-eyed Dutch blonde co-ed passed cheerily on her way to a B. A. Since she was born under a lucky star, she will no doubt be a success.

Beverly Kyle: N.B.

Donald Davis:

Long lean lanky Donald D
Is Poetry in motion.
His walk, his looks, his spiffy dress,
His fatherly devotion.

He knows too well the seamy side
Of life with all its woe.
In spite of this he's loved by all,
No one can call him foe!

His interests lie in philosophy,
No! maybe now its Religion;
Or could it be psychology?
Wait! now its communism.

Although his future's yet unsure,
His life has just begun.
And inevitably some day he'll find
His raisin in the Sun.

Barbara Pybus: N. B.

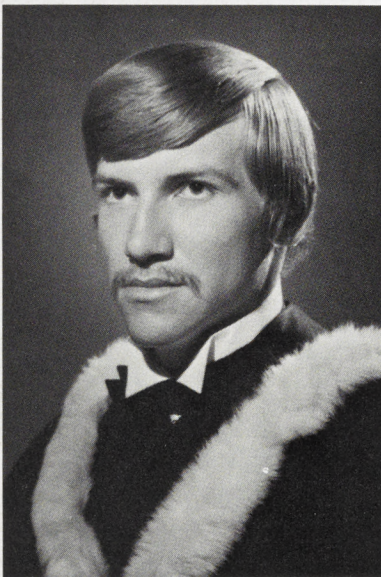

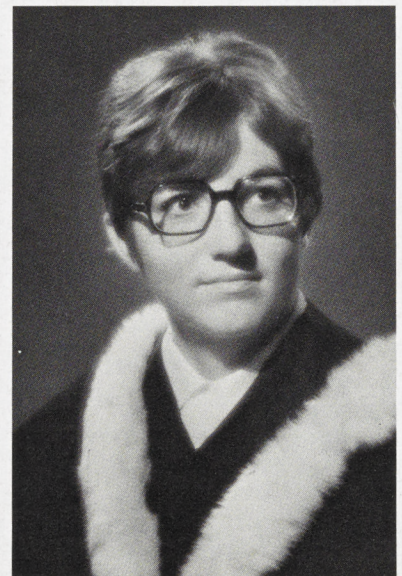

Sandy Lechner: Possessor of one of the most sarcastic wits you'll ever come across. Sandy has managed to keep everyone on their toes since she came to St. John's. She majored in scientific things like maths and psychology, although a literary friend (?) persuaded her to take a couple of English courses for relaxation. Being a member of Alpha Gamma Delta, and so-social chairman of the college have helped to fill time between coffee breaks!

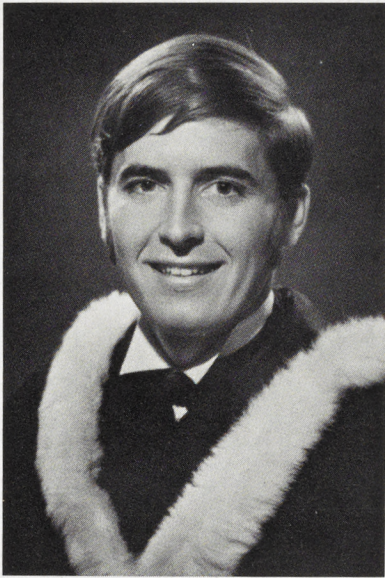

Jean Brown: Jean is waiting for graduation so she can join the apathetic masse. Even with two years practice our Student Council Secretary has trouble keeping the minutes up-to-date. No one must have noticed this laxity with the minutes because Jean managed to receive both of the coveted "J" pins. Jean hopes to be out working next year. Good luck Jean!

Larry Weselake: Larry received his secondary education at Beausejour Collegiate, St. Paul's and St. John's College; where he majored in history and minored in English. Plans to take education in the fall.

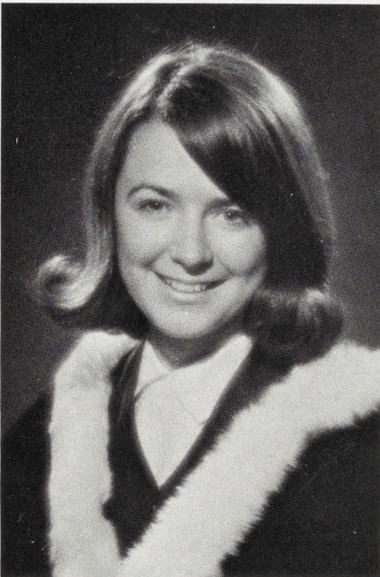

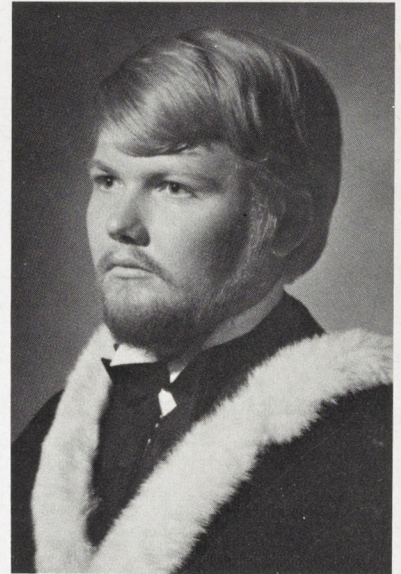

Maureen Trotter: N.B.

Vernon Gunter: N.B.

Ian Menzies: For Sale: one only, "Crystal City Cat". (Presidential model third year). P. and V., Bnjo, rd. brd., blonde hair. Those interested, apply Zeke's Place. Only the frivolous need apply.

Ruth Tennant: Here's a Johnian who is easily recognized by her perpetual smile and bubbling personality, even on Monday mornings. A true Johnian, Ruth can often be found in SJC's Cafeteria, enjoying its smoke-filled atmosphere. As a Psych major, her future is yet undecided but "the call of Europe" seems to be strong. One thing is certain; the future holds much for this girl and her future husband P.H.

Shelagh Watson: Shelagh is a basically quiet person until she starts to laugh. Her choice of sports, golf and skiing reflect her desire for constant activity summer and winter, and then there were the volleyball games! ---Yea St. John's. With her Psychology major and Sociology minor Shelagh hopes to enter the field of Social Work in the fall. Good Luck!

Louise Borse: After a short time in Medical Rehabilitation Louise came to SJC to spend three fun-filled years. Louise, a French major was always willing to lend a helping hand in all college activities. Weekends for Louise are busy with teaching ballet and enjoying life. Life with L. B. is never dull and she can often be heard saying "Don't you just love it?" After graduation Louise plans on entering the Faculty of Education and then who knows--maybe Europe. We all wish you the best of luck in the future, Louise.

Lee Coulter: N.B.

Peter Bryant: This year's Senior Stick lived in SJC Residence for his first two years, and was Proctor in '68-'69, but moved into a "bachelor" apartment for this term. An Economics/History major, Pete is an avid curler and golfer. His future may be in the business management field, if he doesn't coach the Saskatchewan Roughriders to the Super Bowl first.

Patricia Maskell: Our Lady Stick has become a car rally enthusiast since she won the DU powder puff prize. Trish's interests include sorority, cafeteria, dances, cafeteria..... Ambition: to bring Parliamentary Procedure to SJC Student Council Meetings. Destiny: To give up! Future? Undecided.

Heather Burnet: One of the more dramatic elements at St. John's. As well as being the illustrious President of Alph Phi, Heather hopes to be hidden in the theatrical jungles of London by the time this book is printed.

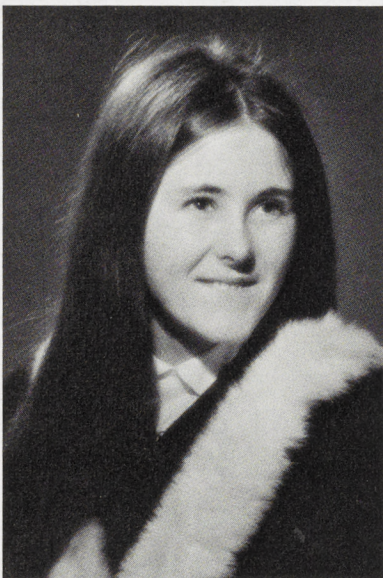

William Coke: N.B.

Robert Coke: N.B.

Sarah Bowen: N.B.

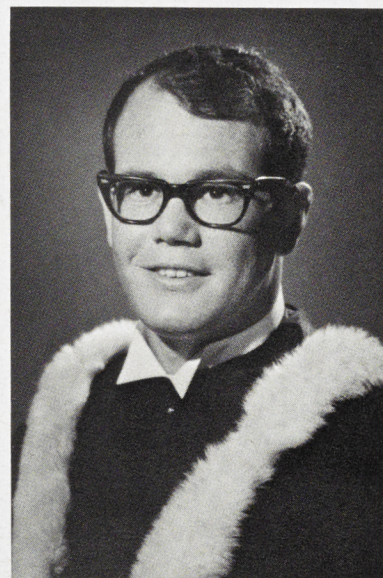

Charlotte MacPherson: N.B.

Poh Lin Lee: N.B.

Murray Smith: "Smitty" has won many accolades for his rum drinking and for his successful career as a professional bachelor. This year through the process of concentration and distillation he will accumulate still another bachelor award-- a B.A.

Larry Muirhead: N.B.

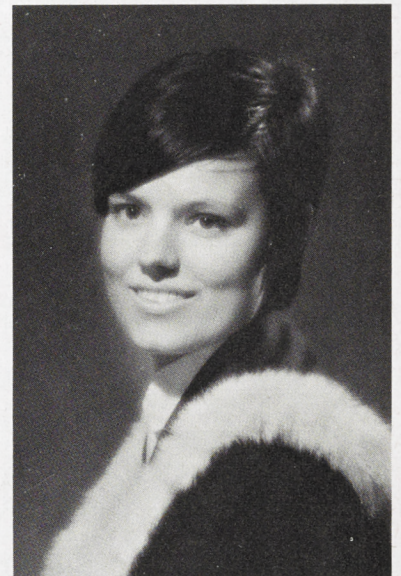

Gloria Galant: Gloria has been a Johnian for the past two years. 4' 11 1/2" of dynamite could be seen dodging deep snowbanks on her way to and from St. John's. However, oblivious to all this she managed to complete her courses in her Psychology major. Her future is quite undecided at the moment.

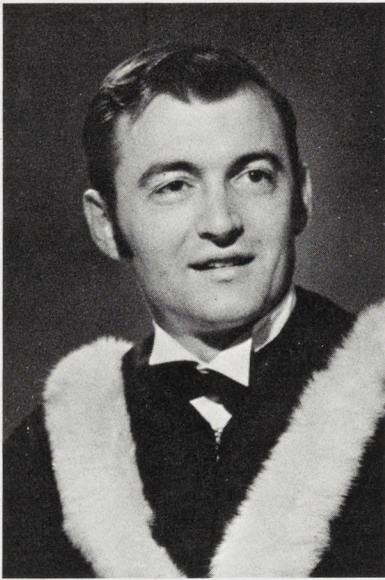

Rae MacGowan: N.B.

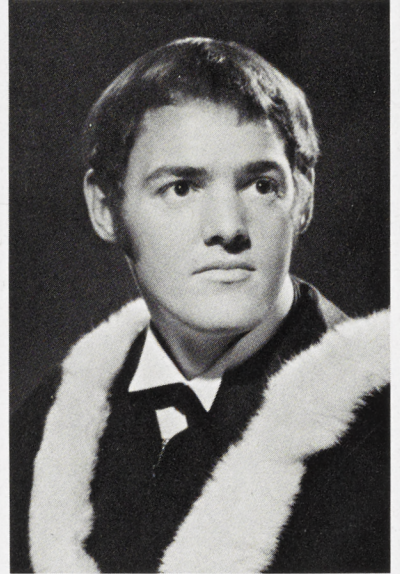

Susan Donald: Susan, majoring in Psychology and minoring in Sociology will be receiving her Bachelor of Arts degree, in spite of most of her time being taken up with ballet and skiing. She has no immediate plans for the future but it could be nothing but bright for her.

Cathie Watson: N.B.

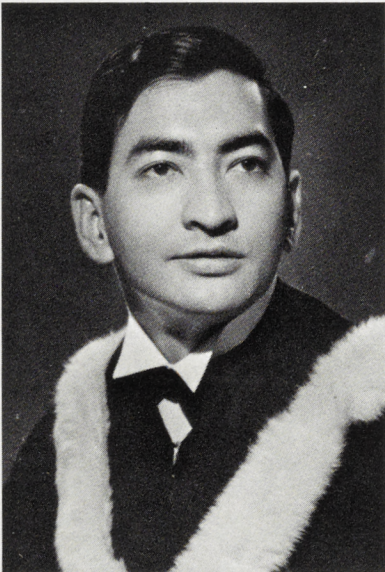

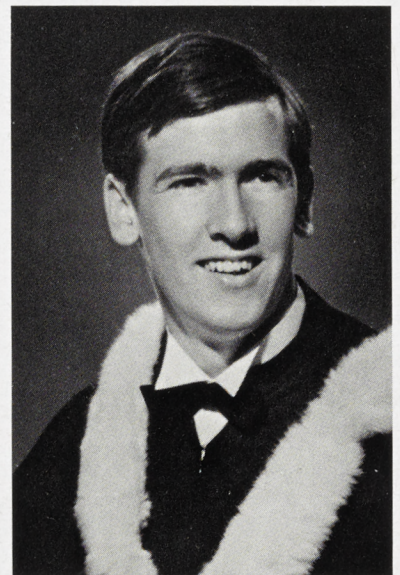

Ronald Sawiak: N.B.

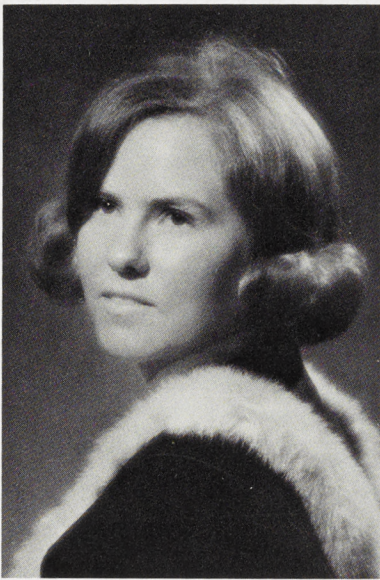

Keith Wright: N.B.

Victor Chew: N.B.

John Kiddell: N.B.

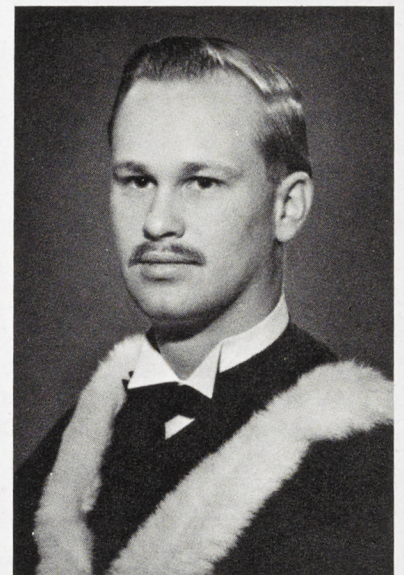

May MacLennan: N.B.

William Merry: Degree: B.A., with a major in Anthropology and a minor in Psychology. Graduated from Drew's School in San Francisco, California, U.S.A. An early life spent in many countries formed a broad base for a continued interest in man's development in his many environments.

Geesche Merry: Degree: B.A., with a major in Anthropology and a minor in Psychology. Graduated from a girls' school in Philadelphia, Pa. U.S.A. and attended the Philadelphia College of Art for three years. A summer holiday to Mexico ended in marriage and a series of jobs such as magazine art staffer, newspaper columnist, and news agency photographer, providing an opportunity to travel extensively and become familiar with the wealth of archeological sites in Mexico and Central America.

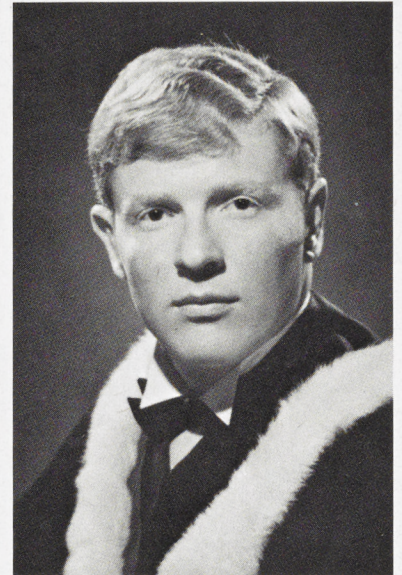

John Singleton: N.B.

Bachelor of Science

Glenning: N.B.

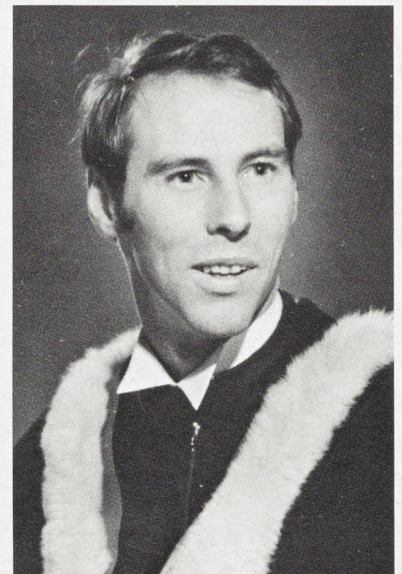

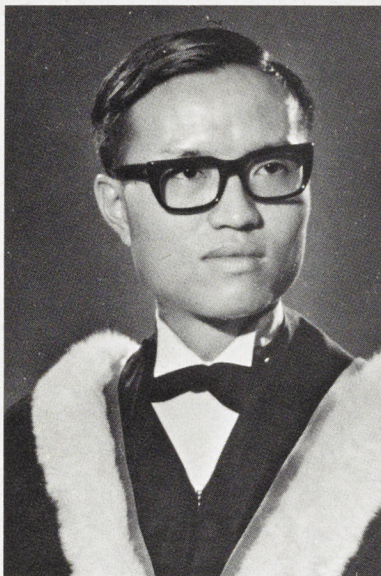

James Sherrett: N.B.

Gregory Law: N.B.

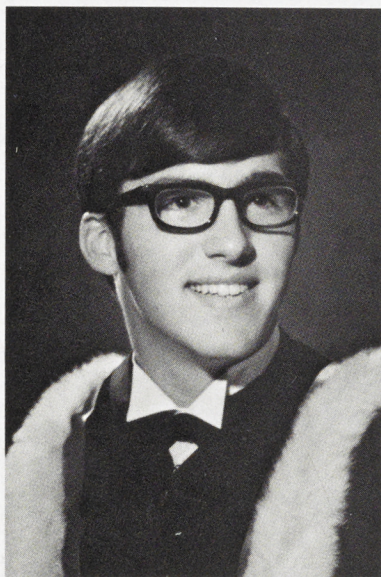

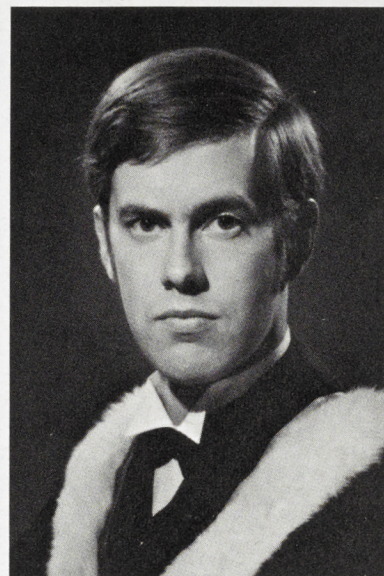

Thomas Thompson: Will graduate in October 1970, with a B.Sc. His major is Mathematics; his minor, Physics. Born in 1943, Thomas worked for five years, with the Meteorological Branch, Dept. of Transport as a technician before coming to S.J.C. He is married, and expects to end up in the teaching profession.

Chung-Shing Lau: Major: Geology/Math. This "rock-hound" came from Hong Kong in 1967. Since then he has travelled extensively in Western Canada, been to Prince Rupert, B.C. and Lynn Lake. Finds Canada a great country.

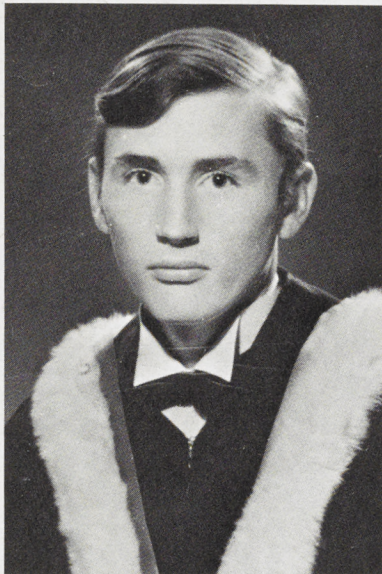

John Tisdale: A familiar sight around the College. Being his fifth year in St. John's he's become engraved in the walls of the canteen. Hobbies--hockey, football, girls? and oh yeah! his major "Zoology" i.e. "Anatomy". His pet peeve: Labs in anatomy. Whooooo!

Richard Van Middlesworth: Here's Dickie! Dick in his final year excelled as a member of the St. John's lacrosse team. He also played on the TKE "B" hockey team. As a major in Zoology it is understandable why the Pharmacy complex has played an important part in his university curriculum. After graduation Dickie will enter the field of Dentistry.

Francis Choy: Born in Hong Kong, and came to Canada in '67. He is majoring in microbiology, minoring in Chemistry, and is the tallest Chinese in Residence. This is his second year in Residence.

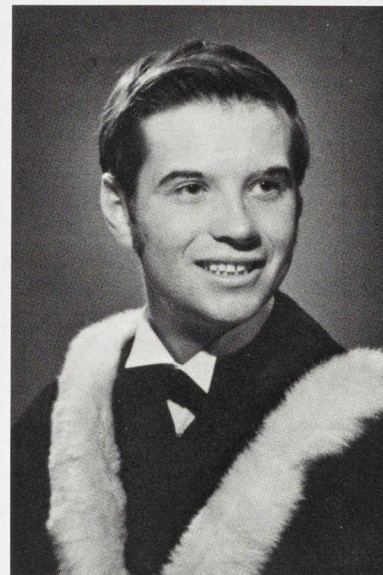

Bev Leadbeater: Bev came to St. John's three years ago from Manitou and has resided in Res. ever since. Such activities as ice hockey, golf, and Christmas banquet have interfered somewhat with Bev's studies which include a major in mathematics and a minor in Chemistry. As yet, his future is firmly undecided.

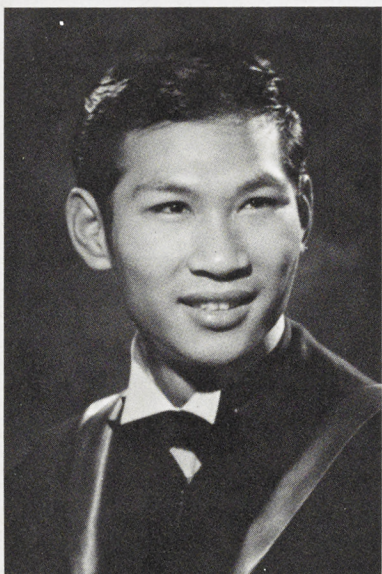

Honors

Ralph Taupe: Ralph is a fourth year Honors Psychology student who now spends little time at St. John's except in the library because most of his classes are elsewhere. He is often heard talking about the burdens of essay writing and hopes to go on for his M.A. in Psychology.

Master of Science

Patrick Pang: Patrick graduated from U.B.C. in 1967 with his B.Sc., and is now earning his M.Sc. in Agriculture. He came from Hong Kong, and is now a resident of British Columbia. He will graduate from Soil Science with a minor in microbiology.

Susanne Sleigh: If there is one thing Susanne is not, it's apathetic. When she retired as number one girl of the College, she carried off that coveted title, O.B.O.T.C. She began laying claim to it in first year by being "master-smearer" behind all the make-up for drama, and in second year when she was JOHNIAN co-editor. But the points really piled up over the P.A. system and the new constitution (among a lengthy list of other accomplishments) during her year as Lady Stick. If Susanne hadn't been the O.B.C., it would have been just another one of those run-of-the-mill years! While thus busily (no, that's not what the B. stands for) occupied, Susanne managed to fit in musical activities that ranged from T.V. appearances, through choirs, to Music Festival competitions, and ranked high on the Dean's Honour List for her academic achievements. In her fourth year, although she has had SOME difficulty keeping a certain promise she made, Honours English has kept her out of mischief. As for the future, well, everyone knows--first St. John's, then the world!

Master of Arts

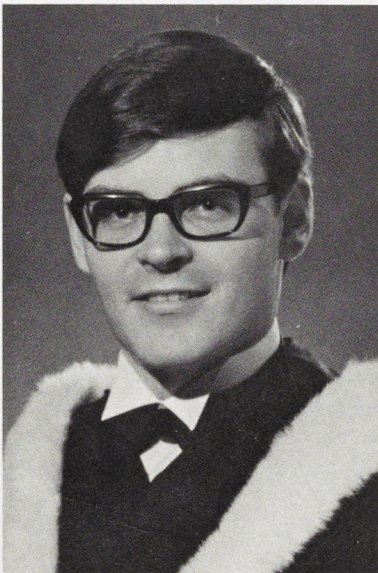

Herbert Eyerer: N.B.

Melvin Kowpak: N.B.

Last But Not Least Graduating from Arts

Phil MacLellan: N.B.

TAKE US FOR GRANTED

We take a lot of things for granted in this world of ours. Things that are so much a part of everyday life that we don't really think about them until they're suddenly not there. Then we realize just how important they are. Take electricity for example. It's always there when we want it. We don't stop to think about what electricity means to us. It means a warm house in the morning, it means a comforting light on a darkened street, it means hot toast and bacon and eggs right off the griddle, it means music, entertainment and a lot less work when things have to be done. And even during those rare occasions when something stops the electricity from getting to us, to feed us and warm us, and light our way, we still take it for granted. It'll be back on in a few minutes. Back on because hard working dedicated men put all their efforts into making sure that you can go on . . . taking us for granted.

WHAT COULD BE BETTER THAN BEING A GRADUATE?

The answer — being an active graduate, of course. All good Johnians, when they graduate, will continue to show their interest in their college and in their university.

The University of Manitoba Alumni Association asks you to maintain this interest throughout your life, helping other young people to enjoy the advantages you enjoyed, spreading the good name of your college and university and giving assistance whenever it is needed.

And so, when you get around to graduating, please be an active alumnus.

LOOSE IN ST. JOHN'S.

so big deal already! you are probably thinking. nothing is loose in st. john's. but you aren't reckoning on our fierce bunnygirl. oncet whilst happily whistling a skating hymn and sliding on the slippery tiles outside the chapel she found a dime. "gadzooks!" she said. "loose money." no one could claim it, so by the law of flotsam and jetsam it was hers to invest — in the campusbank of course. we don't ask questions that would embarass the small saver. so — if you come upon an example of such loose frippery, why not let mr scott mind it for you?
